Orthopaedic Undercast Padding

Trust Lantor to provide the solution

formflex silver

Formflex is a range of undercast padding bandages that are designed to be compatible with both synthetic and non synthetic casting materials. They are easy to apply and remove, and deliver improved patient comfort and protection.

For many patients cast odour, caused by bacterial growth within the warm, humid cast environment, can be an embarrassing problem.

Lantor Formflex Silver is a new, improved undercast padding bandage which contains silver.

Silver is an antimicrobial agent which is proven to resist bacterial colonisation within the bandage.

- Formflex Silver is made from a unique blend of fibres to offer superior comfort and absorbency.
- The bandage is effective against bacteria, including MRSA, for added peace of mind.
- It is highly absorbent to help absorb any excess perspiration.
- It is extra soft for added comfort and is highly conformable for a smooth finish.
- It is strong yet easy to tear and has a useful degree of self adherence for convenient application.
- It provides cushioning to protect vulnerable areas.
- It withstands compression.
